Description:

This course will immerse students in multiplication and division facts through games, riddles, interactive activities, art, and review worksheets. There are no grades or pressure to test, so students are sure to have a good time looking at multiplication and division from a new perspective. Students will focus on single-digit multiplication, two-digit multiplication, and word problems in creative and fun ways. This class is ideal for students who would benefit from a review before the 2016-2017 school year. Hope to see you there!
