Description:

This class is a great way for your primary student to review vowel sounds, diphthongs, digraphs, and sight words while they read over the summer. The class will focus on specific letters and sounds each day with fun kinesthetic activities, games, literacy centers, crafts, and stories. There will be a variety of materials used in the class including magnets, art supplies, clay, shaving cream, and even water balloons! At the beginning of each class, the teacher will read a story to model proper fluency and introduce the sound of the day. Participants will benefit from additional phonemic awareness and likely have increased confidence when they read this summer.
